Beef Noodle Soup (Phở)

Phở (pronounced “fuh?” with a question-like rise in tone) is beef soup served in a bowl with rice vermicelli-style noodles (bánh phở) in clear beef broth with your choice of meat. The dish comes with fresh vegetables, including red and green onions in the soup, with a side plate of bean sprouts, cilantro, basil, jalapeños and a wedge of lime that you add to the soup (please ask your server for help if you need it). Add Hoisin sauce to taste, and spicy sauce may be added if you want extra flavor. We use only the finest cuts of meat and the freshest seafood. For dine in, our phở is available in extra-large size for $2 more.
